Event Preference System Summary

Under this system, all FIRST[®] Robotics Competition teams have one week to enter their ranked event preferences. Teams will be able to enter and rank as many or as few eligible events as they like. There will be no advantage or disadvantage to entering preferences early or late during the open week, as long as preferences are in by the deadline. Also, teams will be able to change their preferences as often as they like before the deadline.

All teams will be randomly assigned a lottery number. Teams will keep this lottery number throughout the first and second event selection process for the season. After the preference deadline, the system will go through each team in lottery number sequence, registering the team to the first event with available capacity in the order of the team's event preference list. If none of the events on a team's list has open capacity, the team will be waitlisted on the single event they have identified as being their preferred 'waitlist' event (or the first event on their list if they do not specifically designate a waitlist event). Every team that has entered a preference list and is event ready for the first round will either be registered or waitlisted for an event.

Teams will then be notified of their first-round results and all additional preferenced events will be cleared. In round two, another one-week window will open for teams to use in selecting their second event preferences. Again, teams can enter as many or as few eligible events on this list they wish, along with selecting a single event on the list as their waitlist preference. Teams will also once more be able to make any changes they wish before the deadline.

After the second preferences deadline, the system will once again assign events, but this time going in reverse lottery number sequence, from the largest lottery number to the smallest. This means teams who were at the bottom of the list for the first round are at the top of the list for the second. Teams are then notified of the results of this second round. Once more, every team that has entered a preference list and is event ready for this second round will either be registered or waitlisted for an event.

The third period of registration is the 'Unrestricted' Regional event registration and Additional In-District Event registration, followed by Additional Inter-District Event registration. These registration periods will follow a first-come, first-served method. This means that once the 'Unrestricted' Event Registration time opens, there is no longer a lottery process.

All events have 'reserved' slots. These slots allow Program Delivery Partners to selectively move in teams on the waitlist for each event based on need. If you find yourself on a waitlist for an event and you have a clear and compelling reason why you can only attend that one event, please connect with the Program Delivery Partner. They will do their best to accommodate you.

Teams can also check out the Event Registration FAQ.

Key Points

These are some key points to keep in mind when using this system

- Your team’s registration does not need to be secured in order preference events.
- Your team must be “event ready” in order to get assigned or waitlisted to an event. “Event ready” refers to teams with two (2) listed lead mentors and, if they are in Canada or the U.S., with a completed background check. Teams should also complete information related to team profile if listed as an outstanding task.
- There is no event assignment advantage or disadvantage to submitting your preferences early or late during the open week, but you must submit by the deadline to be part of the process.
- You can change your preferences as often as you wish before the deadline without penalty.
- You will only be assigned or waitlisted to events you list, but you could be assigned to any event you list.
- If you are waitlisted, you will only be waitlisted at the one (1) event you indicate as ‘Allow Waitlist’ on your preferences. This indication defaults to the first event you list, but you may change it as shown in these instructions.
- Important Note: If you are only able to attend one specific event, you should only preference just that event. You are guaranteed to be at least waitlisted for that event.
- If you are able to attend more than one event, you should add all events you are able to attend in your preference list. This increases the chance you will be immediately registered for an event, rather than experiencing the delay associated with waitlists.
- If you add more than one event on your preference list, make sure to set the ‘Preference Level’ on those events to match your priority. The system will attempt to find space for you in the event you list as Preference Level 1 before moving on to attempt to find space in the event you list as Preference Level 2, etc.
- The preferences you make during the first round of preferencing are independent of those you make during the second round of preferencing. Your preferences will be removed between the first and second rounds. During the second round, you will start with a clean slate.
- Teams within FIRST in Michigan (FIM), FIRST North Carolina (FNC), Pacific Northwest FIRST (PNW), and FIRST Indiana (FIN) use the ‘home event’ system. If you are in one of these Districts and want to attend your ‘home event’, only preference that event. If you are not in one of those districts, you can ignore the discussion of home events in these instructions.
- The information you see on the event preferencing screen is automatically submitted to the system. There is no ‘Save’ or ‘Submit’ button. If you change any information on this screen, those changes are saved automatically.

Event Preference Registration - Round 1 (1st Regional and 1st District Events) will open 12:00 p.m. noon ET, on September 26, 2024, and close 12:00 p.m. noon ET on October 3, 2024.

Event Preference Registration - Round 2 (2nd Regional and 2nd District Events) will open 12:00 p.m. noon ET on October 17, 2024, and close 12:00 p.m. noon ET on October 24, 2024.

First Event Preferences ⓘ Add Preference

During the first Event Preference round, click on the Add Preference button. Search for the event and click on the right arrow. A pop-up box will appear with the Event Details. Click on the Add Preference button to add the event to your preference list. Repeat steps to preference additional events.

The first event added will default to 'Allow Waitlist', but teams can change the 'Allow Waitlist' designation to any preferred event. Teams must have one event marked as 'Allow Waitlist'.

Teams will only be assigned to events they have put on their preference lists. Teams should consider carefully the events they preference, and

7. You will be directed to the Event Search screen. Events will display based on your team criteria.

10. Your first event preference will always default to “Allow Waitlist”.

The screenshot shows the 'First Event Preferences' section with an 'Add Preference' button. A single event preference is displayed for 'Lake Superior Regional' (Date: March 6, 2019, Status: Preference Choice). The 'Preference Level' is set to 1. The 'Waitlist Preference' is set to 'Allow Waitlist', which is highlighted with a red arrow. Below the event details are 'View Event' and 'Remove' buttons.

11. You can preference as many events as you would like.

The screenshot shows the 'First Event Preferences' section with an 'Add Preference' button. Four event preferences are displayed in a grid:

- Lake Superior Regional (Date: March 6, 2019, Status: Preference Choice): Preference Level 1, Waitlist Preference Allow Waitlist.
- Minnesota 10,000 Lakes Regional sponsored by Medtronic Foundation (Date: March 27, 2019, Status: Preference Choice): Preference Level 2, Waitlist Preference Do not waitlist.
- Northern Lights Regional (Date: March 6, 2019, Status: Preference Choice): Preference Level 3, Waitlist Preference Do not waitlist.
- Minnesota North Star Regional (Date: March 27, 2019, Status: Preference Choice): Preference Level 4, Waitlist Preference Do not waitlist.

Each event card includes 'View Event' and 'Remove' buttons.

12. You can change the preference level selection by changing the number in the drop-down menu or by dragging and dropping events into the order you would like. The information you see on this screen is automatically submitted to the system. There is no 'Save' or 'Submit' button. If you change any information, those changes are saved automatically.

The screenshot displays four event cards arranged in a 2x2 grid. Each card contains the following information: event name, date, status (Preference Choice), preference level dropdown, waitlist preference dropdown, and buttons for 'View Event' and 'Remove'. Red arrows point to the preference level dropdowns for the first two events: 'Lake Superior Regional' (set to 1) and 'Northern Lights Regional' (set to 3). The other two events, 'Minnesota 10,000 Lakes Regional sponsored by Medtronic Foundation' (set to 2) and 'Minnesota North Star Regional' (set to 4), have their waitlist preference dropdowns set to 'Do not waitlist'.

13. You can change the Waitlist Preference selection on any of your events with the selection in the drop-down menu. You will always show 'Allow Waitlist' for one event. The system will not allow you to select 'Do Not Waitlist' for all events.

This screenshot shows the same four event cards as the previous one. In this view, the preference level dropdowns are not highlighted. Instead, red arrows point to the waitlist preference dropdowns for the three events on the right: 'Minnesota 10,000 Lakes Regional sponsored by Medtronic Foundation', 'Minnesota North Star Regional', and 'Northern Lights Regional'. All three of these dropdowns are now set to 'Do not waitlist'. The 'Lake Superior Regional' event remains set to 'Allow Waitlist'.

You may come back at any time while preferences are open to make changes to your preference selections.
