

Some event volunteer roles for FIRST Tech Challenge require training. About half of these roles are certified and volunteers must pass the certification test before they can serve in that role. Training is good for one season. In the 2019-2020 season, FIRST Tech Challenge volunteers will access training from within their Dashboard after applying to volunteer at an event.

Accessing training and certification:

1. Log into www.firstinspires.org account and sign up to volunteer for an event.
2. After submitting the application, click on “Return to Dashboard”.

3. You should now see “Roles Missing Certifications” on the Dashboard.

4. Click on "Review Outstanding Tasks".

If I applied to the “Assign me as needed” role, how can I access training?

If a volunteer applies to the “Assign me as needed role”, access to training will be available once the volunteer has been assigned to a role. Alternatively, volunteers can locate the event they applied to and apply to another role. Applying any of the roles that have a training course will allow volunteer to get into BlueVolt where they can browse the FIRST Tech Challenge catalog for training materials.

Accessing volunteer training after the course has been completed

Once a training course associated with your role has been completed, you have met the training requirement for the role and the “Roles Missing Certifications” notice will go away. You can still access the training courses in BlueVolt by clicking on your login name at the top right of the Dashboard. On the drop-down menu, click on “My Profile” and you will see the certifications link for BlueVolt.

Thank you for volunteering with FIRST!
